A LETTER TO THE OPERATOR

RFQs pay in 30 days. RFPs pay in a year.

First federal buy I won was an RFQ. About $42,000 for service parts. Six emails over four days, a one-page price sheet with a short technical narrative, a PO in my inbox the next Tuesday. The money hit the bank thirty-one days after invoice.

Every founder I talk to is chasing the $5M RFP. They should be chasing forty RFQs first. Faster cash, fewer competitors, real past performance built one CLIN at a time. That past performance is what unlocks the bigger work later.

This playbook is the version I wish I'd had on that first one. What an RFQ actually is, where it lives (eBuy vs SAM.gov), how to price it, and the seven-box checklist that keeps a quote from getting tossed for the wrong reason.

Run a quote a week. Build the muscle. The cash flow alone is worth it.

PART ONE • WHAT AN RFQ ACTUALLY IS

An RFQ is not a small RFP. The rules are different.

Request for Quote lives under FAR Part 13 — Simplified Acquisitions. The threshold is $250,000 for FY2026, the evaluation is usually price plus delivery plus past performance, and the response window is days, not months.

Get the category wrong and you'll over-engineer a 60-page proposal for a buy that wanted a one-page price sheet. The next pages cover what an RFQ actually requires and how GSA Schedule quotes work.

RFQ FUNDAMENTALS

The fastest path to federal revenue.

The Request for Quote is the federal government's streamlined buying mechanism for purchases under the Simplified Acquisition Threshold. Three numbers that matter:

THRESHOLD	WINDOW	COMPETITION
$250K SAT ceiling, FY2026	10 days Typical quote window	3 quotes Minimum for most SAT buys

RFQ vs RFP — Know the difference.

ELEMENT	RFQ	RFP
Threshold	Under SAT ($250K)	Any amount; common >$250K
Formality	Informal quote / order	Formal proposal with volumes
FAR Reference	Part 13 (Simplified Acq.)	Part 15 (Negotiation)
Evaluation	Price + delivery + past perf	Technical + mgmt + price
Contract Type	PO or BPA call	FFP, T&M, Cost-Plus
Response Time	Days to 2 weeks	30-90 days typical
Protest Rights	Limited	Full GAO rights

FIELD TIP

If you see 'RFQ' on a buy over $250K, read again. It's almost certainly a GSA Schedule order under FAR 8.4 — different rules, same word.

GSA SCHEDULE QUOTES • FAR 8.405-2

eBuy is where Schedule quotes live.

If the RFQ is against a GSA Schedule vehicle (MAS, OASIS, STARS III), the rules shift. Same word, different game.

RULE	WHAT IT MEANS	WHAT TO DO
Hold the Schedule	Your firm must hold the relevant GSA Schedule AND the SIN must cover the scope.	Check SIN coverage first. Adding one takes 60-90 days.
Three-quote min	Agencies must compare 3 Schedule holders before awarding (FAR 8.405-2).	Watch eBuy daily. Respond fast — be one of the three.
Quote via eBuy	ebuy.gsa.gov is the portal. Email and phone quotes don't count.	Register primary + backup notification email.
Price ceiling	Your price must be at or below your GSA-negotiated catalog rate.	Discount off catalog when the buy is competitive.
Orders >$25K	Agency may require a brief technical approach, key personnel, refs.	Read the RFQ. Submit exactly what they ask for.

WHY THIS MATTERS

GSA Schedule quotes are where most small primes get their first repeatable federal revenue. Set up the alerts, respond inside the window, price under catalog. Six months of that and you have a real federal book.

PART TWO • HOW TO RESPOND

Seven moves separate the winning quote from the rest.

Most disqualifications on RFQs aren't about price. They're about a missing CLIN, a name that doesn't match SAM.gov, or a delivery date the contracting officer doesn't believe.

The next two pages cover the seven practices that win quotes — and the seven-box checklist to run before you hit send.

QUOTE RESPONSE BEST PRACTICES

Seven moves that win quotes.

#	MOVE	WHY IT WORKS
1	Read the RFQ completely	The CO writes the disqualifications into the RFQ. Read them first.
2	Confirm POP delivery	Late delivery is recorded in CPARS and shows up in every future eval.
3	Research fpds.gov	If the last three buys went for $42-48 per unit, don't quote $61.
4	Price competitively, not recklessly	SAT buys go low — but sub-market pricing flags you as a risk too.
5	Include a brief tech narrative	One page is enough. Gives the CO something to point at on award.
6	Aggressive delivery only if real	Fast delivery wins ties. Missed delivery is a negative past-perf event.
7	Confirm payment terms	Verify your SAM banking is current — net 30 EFT goes to that record.

FIELD TIP

Build a quote template before you need it. One-page Word doc — company info, CLIN table, delivery box, T&Cs, signature. When the 10-day window lands, you fill in numbers, not format.

QUOTE RESPONSE CHECKLIST

Seven boxes. Run them before every submit.

A missed box is the easiest disqualification in federal. The CO doesn't owe you a chance to fix it. Tick each before you hit send.

- ☐ Quote covers all required line items (CLINs) exactly as specified
- ☐ Delivery date confirmed with the team actually doing the work — call the warehouse or PM, don't guess
- ☐ Pricing includes all costs: labor, materials, shipping, installation. Burdened, not raw
- ☐ Company info matches SAM.gov registration exactly (legal name, address, UEI)
- ☐ POC contact info included (name, title, email, phone)
- ☐ Quote signed by an authorized representative — not the intern who built the doc
- ☐ Submitted via the correct method: email to the listed CO, eBay portal, or fax for the legacy agencies

WHY THIS MATTERS

We've seen quotes lose on price by $4,000 that should have been disqualified for a SAM.gov name mismatch. The CO caught the mismatch on the winner and re-awarded. Don't be the firm that wins on price and loses on paperwork.

WHAT'S NEXT

Stop hunting for RFQs. Have them routed to you.
