

Founder Onboarding Call

This call gets you hands-on help from our team, making sure you hit the ground running with the kit and your first federal pursuits.

What it is. This is a free, 30-minute call with one of our experienced capture leads. It's included with your Federal Launch Kit, designed to give you direct support. We use this time to dig into a real, live opportunity with you, not just talk theory or general concepts.

When to use it. Book this call after you've skimmed the Master Guide and have a basic grasp of the federal sales process. The goal is to apply the kit's tools to a live opportunity, so don't book it until you're ready to put the material into action. We'll work through a real Sources Sought or RFP together.

How to use it.

- First, skim the Master Guide in your kit. Get familiar with the basics of federal contracting.
- Next, find a live Sources Sought or Request for Proposal (RFP) you're genuinely interested in pursuing.
- Have your capability statement ready to share.
- Open the "Onboarding Call Prep Guide" in this folder. It'll walk you through exactly what else to bring.
- Use the link below to schedule your call at a time that works for you.

Watch out for. Don't come to the call expecting a 101 lesson on federal contracting. We're here to help you apply what you've learned from the kit, so bring a specific, real opportunity to discuss and work through.
